Now the Court must not and does not proceed by haphazard methods. What basis then for fixing wages has it mainly employed? Plainly not a competitive standard, for that would fix itself without the intervention of the Court by the market rate; and, moreover, the competitive standard was one which the Court was especially established to check. Equally plainly it cannot be a profit-sharing standard. This the Court has indeed expressly stated and declined, as it had to decline, to enter upon an inquiry as to the profits of all the employers as a basis of wages. Profit-Sharing Impracticable. Profit-sharing, indeed, as a method of industrial remuneration has...
